Ranie Ribeiro's artistic journey has taken on new dimensions and disciplines.

Formerly

known by his DJ moniker D-Ribeiro, Ranie Ribeiro has solidified himself as one of the Netherlands' most unique harpists.

He's performed live across The Netherlands' premiere venues and festivals, Paradiso, Le Guess Who?2024 and TivoliVredenburg using the harp to experiment with classical, electronica and jazz elements while creating and expanding upon existing compositions.

Embracing the harp's delicate resonance, he went on scoring various projects such as Het Limburgse Landschap (2021), Short Scores (2022) commissioned by Eye Film, and most recently, Waka Nanga Mi (2023) a short film that was screened at the International Film Festival Rotterdam to massive public acclaim.
